PRIZES FROM THE SPANISH SOCIETY OF CARDIOLOGY FOR THE ARTICLES
PUBLISHED IN THE REVISTA ESPAÑOLA
DE CARDIOLOGÍA WITH THE GREATEST INTERNATIONAL IMPACT

Amount: 24 000 euros

Basis:

1. The purpose of these prizes is to encourage the publication in the REVISTA ESPAÑOLA DE CARDIOLOGÍA of original articles that have an important impact or repercussion, both in the medium- and long-term, on the international scientific community.

2. A first prize of 6000 euros and 2 second prizes of 3000 euros will be awarded to those articles with long-term impact, and another first prize of 6000 euros and 2 second prizes of 3000 will be awarded to those articles with the greatest medium-term impact.

3. Prizes will be awarded annually and must be awarded each year.

4. All original articles published in the REVISTA ESPAÑOLA DE CARDIOLOGÍA will be eligible. Articles published as editorials, special articles or review articles will not be eligible for these prizes.

5. The impact of the published articles will be measured by the number of reference citations the article published in the REVISTA ESPAÑOLA DE CARDIOLOGÍA receives from journals included in the Expanded Science Citation Index database.

6. For the award for the article with the most significant long-term international impact, all the reference citations that each article published in the journal during the year 1997 has received during the years 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, and 2002 will be tabulated. For the award for the article with the most significant medium-term impact, all citations that each article published in the journal during the year 2000 has received during the years 2001 and 2002 will be tabulated.

7. Tabulation of the number of reference citations for each article will be performed by an organization independent of the journal of the Spanish Cardiology Society that will issue an annual report in this respect.

8. Prizes will be awarded at a ceremony that will be held during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress (XXXIX National Congress of the SCS), which will take place in Seville from the 15th to the 18th of October, 2003.
