

ANNOUNCEMENT OF 2009 AWARDS FOR ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

SPANISH SOCIETY OF CARDIOLOGY AWARDS FOR THE BEST ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

Amount: €18 000 (3 prizes)

Terms:

1. The purpose of these awards is to encourage the publication of high-quality original articles in the Revista Española de Cardiología.

2. A first prize of €8000, a second prize of €6000, and a third prize of €4000 will be awarded through the Fundación Casa del Corazón.

3. The awards will be given annually and are to be awarded each year.

4. All original articles published in the Revista Española de Cardiología during 2008 are eligible. Articles published as editorials, special articles or review papers are not eligible for these awards.

5. The editor-in-chief and the associate editors of the Revista Española de Cardiología will pre-select what they consider to be the 6 best articles published in the journal in 2007 after consulting with the chairs of the scientific divisions of the Spanish Society of Cardiology.

6. The jury that will make the final selection of the 3 articles to receive awards will be overseen by the vice chair of the Spanish Society of Cardiology and will also consist of the editor-in-chief of the Revista Española de Cardiología and the members of the SCS grants and awards committee. The final decision is not subject to appeal.

7. The awards will be given at a ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Barcelona, on October 22-24, 2009.

AWARDS FROM THE SPANISH SOCIETY OF CARDIOLOGY FOR ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología WITH THE GREATEST INTERNATIONAL IMPACT

Amount: €30 000 (6 prizes)

Terms:

1. The purpose of these awards is to encourage the publication in the Revista Española de Cardiología of original articles that have an important impact or repercussion, both in the medium- and long-term, on the international scientific community.

2. A first prize of €7000 and 2 second prizes of €4000 will be awarded to those articles with long-term impact, and another first prize of €700 and 2 second prizes of €4000 will be awarded to those articles with the greatest medium-term impact, through the Fundación Casa del Corazón.

3. The awards will be given annually and are to be awarded each year.

4. All original articles published in the Revista Española de Cardiología will be eligible. Articles published as editorials, special articles or review papers are not eligible for these awards.

5. The impact of the published articles will be measured by the number of reference citations received by the article published in the Revista Española de Cardiología from journals per the Science Citation Index Expanded.

6. For the award to the article with the most significant long-term international impact, the reference citations for articles published in the journal in 2003 that have been cited during the years 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, and 2008 will be determined. For the award to the article with the most significant medium-term international impact, the reference citations for articles published in the journal during 2006 that have been cited during the years 2007 and 2008 will be determined.

7. Calculation of the number of reference citations per the SCI for each article will be determined by an organization independent of the journal and the Spanish Society of Cardiology that will issue an annual report on the topic.

8. The awards will be given at a ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Barcelona, on October 22-24, 2009.

AWARDS FROM THE CLINICAL AND OUTPATIENT CARDIOLOGY SECTION

Amount: €2400 (2 prizes)

Terms:

1. The Clinical and Outpatient Cardiology Section, in order to encourage and promote the submission of articles and/or scientific reviews in the Revista Española de Cardiología among section members, announces 2 prizes of €1200 each, through the Fundación Casa del Corazón, to the best original articles or brief reports on clinical cardiology published in the journal during 2008.

2. One of the awards will be reserved for section members who have been members for at least 1 year.

3. The jury will be composed of 2 members of the Clinical and Outpatient Cardiology Section and the editor-in-chief of the Revista Española de Cardiología or the person he designates. The final decision is not subject to appeal. The practical interest and scientific content of the study will be evaluated.

4. The awards will be given at a ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Barcelona, on October 22-24, 2009.

AWARD FROM THE GERIATRIC SECTION

Amount: €1500

The Geriatric Cardiology Section of the Spanish Society of Cardiology wishes to promote research in geriatric cardiology and encourage authors to publish their results in the Revista Española de Cardiología or in other high-impact journals.

Therefore, a prize of €1500 will be awarded through the Fundación Casa del Corazón to the best article on geriatric cardiology published during 2008 in the Revista Española de Cardiología or in an international journal with a higher impact factor.

Terms:

1. All original articles on geriatric cardiology published in the Revista Española de Cardiología or in a high-impact international journal during 2007 are eligible.

2. Authors of publications in English journals should submit their application along with a copy of the article. The deadline for reception at the Spanish Society of Cardiology Secretarial Office (Geriatric Cardiology Section) expires on April 23, 2009, at 7:30 pm. Requests received after the deadline indicated will be rejected.

3. The award will be given annually.

4. The jury will consist of the chair and the secretary of the Geriatric Cardiology Section and the editor-in-chief of the Revista Española de Cardiología. The final decision is not subject to appeal.
